NOTE to the resistance of our pipette kits to the medium:

Regarding the compatibility and/or resistance of our products to certain substances, we can't make general statements, also for legal reasons. There are many influencing factors, that do not allow a general statement. The type of ingredients, their quality and concentration are associated with each other and affect the material of the teat. We point out, that we generally do not give a guarantee of compatibility of our primary packaging with a certain medium. The responsibility for testing of the interaction of medium and primary packaging under practice conditions for their compatibility lies ultimately with the user / bottler.
