

Can Phase Lock Gel be used for an organic extraction with a mixture of phenol and BCP (1 bromine-3 chloropropane)?

Yes, this application is possible with both Phase Lock Gel Heavy and Light tubes. A sufficient quantity of BCP should be used when using Phase Lock Gel Heavy, in order to achieve a stable gel phase.

BCP increases the density of the organic phase in the same way as chloroform.