KLEN Certified Reference Materials

KLEN International, a VWR Company, is based in Neerabup, Western Australia. KLEN is the world's largest manufacturer and supplier of fire assay fluxes in the world, largely due to its global reputation for high-quality products and customer support. In recent years KLEN's product lines have expanded to include X-Ray fluxes, and now Certified Reference Materials (CRMs).

All of our CRMs are manufactured in our ISO9001 accredited facility and tested by multiple independent laboratories around the globe, so you can be sure that the accuracy and consistency of our reference material will meet your labs' quality assurance needs.
